FAMILY VISITING, HOUSE BURNED TO THE GROUND

Home of Dan Stone Goes up in Flames Without Saving Any
Of its Contents.

CAUGHT VERY MYSTERIOUSLY.

Saturday Morning at 1 o'clock the dread cry of "fire" was heard in our quiet little city and the citizens were aroused from their slumbers to find the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Stone enveloped in flames. The family were away from home visiting relatives in South East Missouri, where they went three weeks ago.

There are several surmises as to how the house could have caught on fire but the most probable and plausible one is that it was set accidentally by the careless throwing of a cigar stub or cigarette in the dry grass in front of the house.

Those who first discovered it say that the yard and porch were on fire first, but on account of the hour and the slow arrival of volunteers, the entire house was doomed before enough help arrived to save even the contents. Nothing was saved.

The fire fighters seeing no hope of saving the house or any of the contents devoted their time and efforts to saving the residence of Mrs. E. H. Porter, occupied by the owner and Rev. J. B. McNeely and family and at first this was considered impossible and everything was taken out and piled promiscuously in the street or on adjacent lots.

By hardwork and the timely arrival of the Chemical Engine, recently ordered "on trial" by the City Council, the fire fighters stopped the fire at Stone's out-buildings, thus preventing it extending to Mrs. Porter's out-buildings which were close at hand and connected at the west end with her residence. There was no damage by fire to the Porter premises. The loss on the Stone house and contents is covered by insurance of $1,500.

Long Lost Money Found

Albert Chittenden, of Livingston county, was here Friday and told a rather unusual and remarkable story of finding some money last week which he lost while hunting two and one half years ago. At that time he and J. E. Chittenden, of Louisville, who was a guest at his home at the time, were out hunting and it was when they returned to the house that he missed his purse. A thorough search was made of the premises but the lost money was not located.

Last week J. E. Chittenden was his guest again and they were out hunting as is usual with them when the Louisville man visits him.

In climbing a fence one of them stepped on a soft substance which at first they thought was a toad or an old rubber heel, but which on closer examination proved to be the long lost purse with all the money in it, just as when he lost it. The paper bills were almost in a state of collapse from decay and will require careful handling to be delivered to the United States Treasurer for redemption.

Fireman's Coal Blackened Face Leads to His Death

Shreveport, La., Aug. 28.—When D. M. Nolen, saw filer in a lumber camp at Fisher, La. and Sudie Hines, a negro laborer, became involved in a dispute, the negro spit Nolen's head with a timber ax. Later M. M. Kinney, locomotive fireman, his face smeared with coal dust, was mistaken for the negro and fired on and killed by a posse. Hines had not been captured up to a late hour Tuesday night.

NIGHT RIDERS SEND THREATENING NOTES

Demand That Admission Fee For Services Be Stopped at Hurricane.

The Marion correspondent sent the following to the Louisville Post, Monday:

"The first attempt of night riders in Crittenden county to broaden the scope of their operations from tobacco matters alone to other affairs came today when the committee in charge of Hurricane camp meeting, sixteen miles north of here, received threatening letters demanding that they drop their custom of charging admission at the gates of the camp grounds.

In order to defray the expenses of the meeting, which has been an annual affair for many years, the committee decided last year to charge a small gate fee on the two Sundays during which the meeting went on.

The plan had met with some dissatisfaction, but on the whole seemed to be working out very well.

The notices were found scattered all over the camp grounds yesterday morning, but admission was charged nevertheless. Special guards have been installed and the committee, composed of some of the best citizens of the county, propose to proceed as before."

Only A Clerical Mistake.

J. L. Rankin the genial postmaster of Ford's Ferry who was arraigned and put under bond on account of some irregularities in the Post Office of which he has charge, in an interview here recently at the L. C. Station informed the Record-Press that all the alleged "shortage" had been made up and that all the errors were merely clerical and were all straightened up as soon as his attention was called to them. His friends will be glad to know this and have confidence in his innocence of any intentional wrong doing.

E. J. HAYWARD SELLS INTEREST IN FARMERS BANK

To Mr. O. S. Denny, Cashier of This Bank, But Formerly With The Citizens Bank,

OF CARRSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

A deal of considerable proportions was perfected in local banking circles last Friday, when Mr. O. S. Denny, the Cashier of the Farmers' Bank, purchased the entire interest of E. J. Hayward in that institution.

Mr. Denny's wide experience in banking, and his character and popularity with those who know him most intimately makes the future prosperity of this institution certain.

For about ten years he was connected with the Citizens' Bank, of Carrsville, and since January 1st., he has been Cashier of the Farmers' Bank here.

Mr. Hayward, who has been identified with the Farmers' Bank since its organization, will in the future, devote his time to his private affairs here and elsewhere.

The new home of the Farmers' Bank is now ready for occupancy and is a dream of loveliness. The exterior is substantial in appearance and is built of brown glazed brick with lime stone trimmings. The interior is finished in mahogany, with white marble wainscoting, tiled floors and is well ventilated. The light is perfect being supplied by immense plate glass northern and eastern windows. In winter the premises will be heated by steam, supplied from the furnace installed in the basement, through immense gilded radiators. The electric lighting is the indirect reflector system and is the most perfect ever installed in this city.

While Mr. Hayward is not now connected with the bank he has left the impress of his character in the magnificent home which the institution will now occupy, which was designed by him and carried to successful completion ere he severed his connection with the Bank. To do this required an architect and master-builder of no small attainments and Forest B. Heath was selected. How well he has done so is shown in the beauty of this structure.

President's Daughter Is Thrown From Horse

White River, Junction, Vt. Aug. 28.—While horseback riding with her fiancé, Miss Jesse Wilson, the president's daughter, was thrown from her horse Wednesday afternoon. Her companion was riding in front and did not know of the accident until the riderless horse dashed by him.

Dr. Chas. W. Worthen, who was going to visit a patient, came upon the young woman and attended her. She was not seriously hurt.

MRS. JOHN P. MORGAN DIES IN PRINCETON

At The Home of Her Son, William,
After a Long Illness of Several Months.

WAS SIXTY-FIVE YEARS OF AGE

Mrs. Sallie Bell Morgan, wife of Mr. John P. Morgan, of Marion, died at the home of her son, William Morgan, in this city on Franklin street Wednesday night at 9:10 o'clock after a long illness.

Mrs. Morgan was 65 years, 2 months and 13 days old. Her maiden name was Miss Sallie Bell, and was born and reared in Barren Co., near Glasgow. She was married Feb. 1st, 1874, to Mr. John P. Morgan, and with her husband she resided in the Caldwell Springs section of Crittenden county from their marriage up to about twelve years ago, when they moved to Marion to reside. She was a member of the Caldwell Springs Baptist church.

Upon the failure of her health and her condition became serious, she was brought to Princeton about a month ago, at the request of her son, William Morgan, and at whose home she died.

Besides her devoted husband she leaves three sons and one daughter to mourn her death. The children are James A. and Joe S. Morgan, of St. Louis; William Morgan, of Princeton; Mrs. Fred Patterson, of Fredonia. She also leaves a brother, Joe Bell, of Dycusburg.

The remains were laid to rest Friday morning in the Marion cemetery.—Princeton Leader.

Orme's Sign Boards.

J. H. Orme, the Main street druggist and one of our most progressive citizens is having installed along the public roads sign boards giving the distance from each board to his palatial drug store which is in the center of Marion. This is an unselfish enterprise and is of the kind which helps the community in which such a citizen lives. It reminds us of a new law they now have in Illinois, the following comment which we clip from the Brookport, Ill., "Bull Moose" of which Clyde Chambers one of our boys is a part owner. The Illinois law is a good one.

"Under the road and bridge law recently enacted by the Illinois legislature the commissioner of highways of the various townships are required to erect and keep in repair at the forks or crossing place of the most important public roads, posts and guide boards, with plain inscriptions thereon in letters and figures giving directions and distances to the point to which the road leads.

They are further required to prevent all rank growth of vegetation in the public highways by causing the same to be cut and destroyed prior to the seeding of the same, or before Sept. 1, of each year; and to prevent thistles, burdock, cocklebur, mustard, yellow dock, Indian mallow and jimson weed from seeding, and to exterminate the same as soon as practicable. They may at their discretion, install water troughs for public use along the highways."

QUICK WORK PRE- VENTS COLLISION.

Engineer's Keen Hearing Prevents Trains From Running Together.

A head on collision between the I. C. passenger train due here at 5:55 and a southbound freight train was narrowly averted about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon when the two trains were brought to a standstill near St. Vincent with the engines only a few yards apart.

The engineer on the freight train had failed to regard orders to take a siding a short distance back from where the two trains met. But for the keen hearing of the engineer on the passenger train, who heard the bell on the freight train, a serious collision would have resulted. The passenger engineer sounded his whistle loudly, the signal was heard by the other engineer and the two trains were stopped. The trains met on a sharp curve and had not the passenger engineer heard the approaching train, the engineers would not have sighted each other's trains until they had crashed into each other. The freight train was backed and after much delay, the passenger train proceeded.

The passenger train was full of people, who realized that they had been in grave danger.—Henderson Gleaner.

Dr. O. C. Cook Moves to Marion.

Dr. O. C. Cook, of Crayne, has moved to Marion and brought his estimable family to reside here. He purchased the A. S. Cannan property on East Bellville street. Dr. Cook will have offices in the Press building, at the left, right at the head of the stair-way, he and Dr. Perry occupying adjoining offices. Dr. Cook began the practice of medicine fifteen years ago at View in this county but moved soon afterward to Crayne, where he has practiced ever since, and we can truthfully say successful. We welcome Dr. Cook and his interesting family to Marion.

EARLY DAYS.

BY JAMES R. GLASS.

The scenes of my first childhood home Still sweetly linger in my mind, When I the fields and woods did roam, And listened to birds of every kind. My soul was tuned to nat'ral things, And my mind from vice was free; Then the pleasure which childhood brings, In all its fullness, belonged to me. I was a child of tender years, With naught to bother my mind; I had no trouble and no fears Of misfortune of any kind. The days were passing swiftly by, With no thought of the tomorrow To trouble or cause me to sigh, And I did not trouble borrow. Only a succession of delight Kindly greeted me ev'ry day; From early morn till late at night, It was work, school or healthful play. The chores I did lightened my care; Sleep better on my bed at night; Relished better my homely fare, And had no dreams of dreadful fright. I had little worry and strife, Which were merely specks in the sky Of blissful, happy childhood life, But evil days were drawing nigh.

MINUTES

OF THE CRITTENDEN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

Held in The Auditorium, of The Marion Graded And High School Building, August 4th to 8th, 1913, Marion, Ky.

The Crittenden County Teachers Institute convened for their 1913 session in the Auditorium of the Marion City School, on Monday, August the fourth.

There was an unusually large attendance when called to order at 10 o'clock, by County Superintendent E. Jeffrey Travis, he acting as chairman until the officers of the week were elected.

The Teachers joined in singing, "America" led by Mr. C. H. Richardson, after which Rev. Will Price Gordon conducted the devotional exercises.

Election of Officers

The following officers were elected:

PRESIDENT: Hollis Franklin.

VICE PRESIDENT: Fred Hillyard.

SECRETARIES: Misses Ethel Hard and Florence Harris.

The different School Book Companies and Publishers of Educational Magazines had representatives present and each was given an opportunity of bringing before the Institute the excellence of their Books and Journals.

Prof. Craig Addresses Institute.

The Instructor Prof. W. J. Craig, of Bowling Green addressed the Institute on the "Course of Study." He said he, "Expected to do something in the Institute that he had been advised not to do, and that was to work on the course of Study. So few teachers really know anything about it and thus they consider it tiresome. There are many things that teachers necessarily have to do during the year that are not poetical and may be very tiresome, yet needful. There is one thing that means success, and that is organization. The output of the school should be efficiency and good citizenship and that comes only through organization. Kentucky teachers are organizing and are progressing. The course of study represents the best ideas of the teachers of the whole state."

If thoughtful study is given the course of study one can gain efficiency and can avoid the necessity of having thirty or more classes a day as are now sometimes found in the rural schools. One fifth of Kentucky's Teachers will, when they begin school this year, start each at the first of the book and follow the book page by page, and will probably have eight or ten classes in arithmetic, while if the course of study is followed this will not be done. Books only organize subjects so that children can grasp the topic as a complete whole and are not to be relied upon entirely. The course of study does not destroy the individuality of the teacher.

The Superintendent has a right to know that you are giving a certain amount of information, and that all teachers should meet the requirements. "Tis said, "Crittenden County Schools are in advance of most in the state," but if a child from one district moves into another, he should be able to continue his work and this can be done if the course of study is followed and there are good teachers in every school.

The Commonwealth of Kentucky has a right to expect each teacher as its agent to so grade the schools that pupils can go on to graduation. No people give better service for the money received than the teachers. Kentucky as a state pays a sufficient amount, yet when counties and school boards pay more they have a right to expect better service.

The course of Study contains an outline stating what every grade should do in each years work and it also tells where material can be obtained to assist in the teaching of the work. Personal experience shows how impossible to organize a school without a systematic outline.

The program for the week is made to follow the Bulletin and to meet the requirements of this Institute. The Instructor assigned work in the Bulletin for study.—Pages 37, 38, 39. His explanation to follow later.

Institute Adjourned Until 1:15 p. m.

MONDAY AFTERNOON

Institute was called to order by Vice-President Fred H. Hillyard.

Primary Language was discussed quite fully.

Value of Language Teaching to the Child.

Miss Bertha Moore.

She said,—"Because Language is so practical and the most necessary of all arts, it needs no excuse for occupying a place in the school curriculum. The ability to speak correctly is the best evidence of an educated man. A grammatical error classes one with the uneducated, no matter what courses of study he may have completed."

She gave several incidents where one grammatical error lost desirable positions. "The errors may be easily corrected in early life and teachers should be diligent in drilling correct forms into the minds of young children."

Explain The Plan of The Courses.

Miss Ida Hicklin.

"The course of study has outlined the work by the month, certain poems, stories, fables etc. having been suggested, but the resourceful teacher may adapt other selections to the needs of her class. The plan is for each grade to become familiar with one poet and his poems and one artist and his pictures during the year. Language books should not be used until the third year and the work then alternates with the fourth year. During these two years much attention is given to written composition, dictation and letter writing. In the Fifth and Sixth years the language work alternates. Here some Grammar is studied; at three-fifths of the time should be given to oral and written composition. Seventh year, the emphasis is placed on Etymology and in the Eighth on Syntax. Students should write four compositions a month on subjects that will keep them close to life."

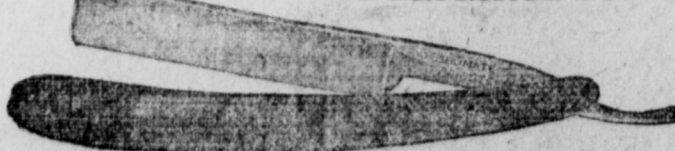

Show How The Language Lesson May Be Correlated With Real Life.

Mr. Hollis Franklin.

"No matter how poor the home there are many things of great interest to the child and the farms of Crittenden County contain excellent material for Language work that pupils have never observed."

Newspaper Support.

A newspaper, if it has any brains, conscience and muscle back of it, must continually decide between doing its duty and injuring its pocket. In any position but that of an editor the public is able to separate the individual home from the collective citizen. But if an editor does not please them its at his pockets they aim. Thus it is the newspaper, learns who its friends are. The man who reads the newspaper and admires it all the year round, yet gives his business to some other concern, whose principles or actions of its editor he detests, and the man who never is a friend to the newspaper until he wants a favor granted by the newspaper, is not a friend to the former newspaper. Admiration alone will not run a newspaper. There are too many men who expect an editor to slave in defense of their pet notions and coolly withhold the business support by which alone a country newspaper can live.

Talk about a paper having a public duty to perform, and an editor having to work for his principles, is cheap when others stand back and extend a lukewarm neutrality. The result is the editor may starve while laboring for his principles and the cause of right and justice, which they admire, but do not support.—Hartford Republican.

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous For Marion People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they so often get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health will be gradually undermined. Help the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills, which are so strongly recommended right here in this locality.

She Knew Her Business.

An Alabama negro recently, who had won a dollar in a crap game, decided to have his fortune told, so he hid himself to a fortune teller, who led him into a dark room with mystic red lights in each corner.

She had him hold out his open palm which she observed closely for a moment, and then she said:

"You like chicken and watermelon, you have won money in a crap game, and you have been in jail."

"Lawd, lday," responded the negro, "you can read my mos' secret thoughts."—Los Angeles Times.

Picturesque Mayor of Ohio Town Walks Through Crowded Streets
—Remonstrators are Defied.

Clarington, Ohio, Sept. 2.—When his fellow townsmen remonstrated with Colonel Sam Teachapott; the picturesque Mayor of Clarington, when he emulated Sockless Simpson, of Kansas, and walked down the main avenue in his bare feet, while the street was crowded, he told them to mind their own business and that he would do as he pleased, or words to that effect. Colonel Teachapott, who is a veteran of the Civil War, has caused much controversy, and efforts have been made to have him removed from office, but without result.

HERBINE

Is a Powerful Chill Tonic and Liver Regulator.
It puts the liver in healthy vigorous condition and cures the chills by destroying the disease germs which infest the system. Herbine is a fine anti-periodic medicine, more effective than the syrupy mixtures that sicken the stomach; because it not only kills the disease germs, but acts effectively in the liver, stomach and bowels, thus putting the system in condition to successfully resist the usual third or seventh day return of the chill. Herbine is a cleansing and invigorating medicine for the whole body.

The Rope that Holds.

Very many lives have been lost in the Alps and other mountain ranges by the breaking of defective ropes. The tragedy of Abbe Chiffet and his two guides in the Alps set ablaze the fires of indignation. They were climbing the eastern slopes of Les Courtes, when the defective rope that should have held them, parted and let them down to an awful death. The Alpine Club took up the subject of the insecure ropes and has effected quite a reform in the quality of the material out of which they are composed and the manner in which they are made. The ropes that pass the inspection of the Alpine Club and are guaranteed to hold are marked by a crimson thread wrought into them. In climbing spiritual altitudes, the rope that is safe for the soul is the one that has the scarlet thread woven into it, the stain of the Spotless Victim.—Christian Herald.

Beware of Ointments for

Catarrh That Contain Mercury
as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J.
Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Gatun Lake.

When Gatun Lake is filled it will contain 183,000,000,000 cubic feet of water. The present height of water in the lake is 45 feet above sea level and this is nearly 40 below the top of the spillway of the great dam. It will be a generous estimate to say that the lake is now about one third full; and that the Chagres River will have to discharge 120,000,000,000 more cubic feet of water into the big basin before the contemplated level is attained. The rainy season at the isthmus has just about set in, and, thus far, the rainfall has been below normal. Dividing the present foot-second flow of the Chagres into the number of cubic feet required to fill the lake, the conclusion is reached that the 80-foot level will not be attained in the basin until the end of the year. Of course, no ship can pass through until the water is of navigable depth above the sills of the upper locks.

Hickman Quadruplets.

Hickman, Ky., Sept. 3.—The little two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bivens died at their home, south of here, after a few weeks' illness. This was the last of the four children three girls and one boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. Bivens two years ago, the only set of quadruplets ever known in this end of the state. Two of the children lived three days, the third one about a week.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it
I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriole, Pa. That is not at all unusual.

almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy. For sale

Kill Weeds Without Hoe.

Always at this season, there is a demand for weed killers—something to clean out weeds without the exertion of lifting a hoe. The following advice is from the Colorado Agricultural College:

Salt—Take one pound of salt to one gallon of water, boil and apply while still hot, or dry stal may be used and then watered in, but this will color the walk more or less and it is not quite so effective.

Sulphuric Acid—Four fifths ounce of the acid to one gallon of water. Best applied with a wooden pail.

Take one pound of powdered arsenic to three gallons of cold water, boil and stir well. Then add seven gallons of cold water with two pounds of sal soda.

Lime and Sulphur—Ten gallons of water, twenty pounds of quicksilver and two pounds of flowers of sulphur are boiled in an iron vessel. After settling, the clear part is dipped off and used when needed.

There are a number of commercial weed killers on the market. Applications of weed destroyers should be made on a hot day or right after a rain, with a sprinkler. One good application is usually sufficient for the season. As the most of them contain poison, either arsenic or acids, great care should be exercised in handling them.

Goebel Firearms Sold

To Mexican Republic.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 2.—Military equipment purchased by the state to be held in reserve during the Goebel troubles, has been sold to the Mexicans, but not by the state or any of its agents.

The equipment was recently sold to this city at public auction and purchased by Major V. K.

Dodge, of Lexington, who sold them to dealers in the southern part of the United States.
These dealers sold them to the Mexicans, and that is how it came to be that boxes containing the address of the state arsenal in this city were discovered in Mexico.

Fifty Governors in Council Of National Highways Ass'n.

It is an interesting fact in connection with the meeting of the House of Governors at Colorado Springs, which adjourned today, that 50 Governors of states, territories, and dependencies are officials of one organization—the National Highways Association. Probably never before in the history of the country has any organization been represented by so many chief executives.

The Association has five governing bodies: a Board of Trustees, a Board of National Councilors, a Council of Governors, a Council of Commissioners, and a Board of Advisors.

Alves Stephens' New Home Model of Beauty and Convenience.

Seldom does anyone have the opportunity to inspect a home in this section which combines so much real comfort and convenience as the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Alves Stephens which is just being completed and ready for occupancy. It is of the Modern Bungalow style with hardwood floors and old English oak finish and double doors. It has a splendid basement under it, with laundry, and the main floor has reception, dining, living, sewing and cook rooms, with closets, lavatory, pantry, and other accessories. The whole is surmounted by a heavy roof with one large room in it of huge proportions. The house is ideally arranged and has a complete system of electric lights and switches as was ever installed in Marion.

Near Nonagenarian Celebrates Birthday Anniversary.

On Sunday, Aug. 24th, Mrs. Margaret Jane Black, of Sturgis, celebrated her 87th birthday. She was born Aug. 24th, 1826, in Livingston Co., which was later divided into Crittenden Co. Mrs. Black's maiden name was Newcom. She was married on Sept. 10th, 1846, to John T. Black, of near Princeton, Ky. There were eleven children were born to this union of which five are living, they are L. B. Black, of Rover, Nev.; F. L. Black, of Sturgis; Mrs. C. S. Robertson, of Springfield, Mo.; Mrs. Margaret Hughes, of Weston; and Miss Alice Black, of Sturgis.

Mrs. Black has 56 living descendants, five children, thirteen grandchildren, and twenty-one great grandchildren, and is remarkable for her wonderful vitality, having her second eye sight and nearly all of her teeth. Up to last Sept. she was very active. While on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Robertson, of Springfield, Mo., she met with an accident and has been confined to her room, and unable to get about except in a wheelchair. Those present for the occasion of Mrs. Black's birthday were: Mrs. Margaret Hughes and daughter, Ruby, of Weston; Mr. Eli Nunn and daughter, Ina, of Sullivan; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hughes and family, of Weston; Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Nesbitt, of Mt. Pleasant, Ia.; Mrs. Sophia Holeman and son, of Sturgis; Miss Bennett, of Mt. Vernon, Ind.; Mr. John Culley, George Lindle and sons, Sturgis; F. L. and Miss Alice Black, who lives with their mother.

Mrs. Black's descendants are scattered through many states, and only a few of them were able to be present.

A Passage in Scripture.

As a bird that wondereth from her nest, so is a man that wondereth from his place.

The man that leaves his family and knows nothing about them is worse than a brute. Surely he must at some time feel a remorse that stings him as he was never stung before. The old home must come before his vision with the ones who should be near and dear to him, bathed in sorrow waiting for his return. It cannot be that there is any satisfaction in proving that those who loved us are being made the saddest of the sad by our misconduct he deserves severe punishment for bringing such trouble, sadness and reproach on the household.

It is wickedness that will at some time bring down the wrath of God on the one who is guilty of so doing.

If these lines should meet the eyes of some wonderer, will they please do one of two things, go home or write them a letter. Let not the sun go down before you do something to repair the past.

An Ideal Day.—One Long to Be Remembered.

Recently the editor met an old farmer friend on the streets who confessed to 74 years and who was born and had lived all his life within twelve miles of where Marion is now situated. While the two were talking another old friend of the editor, also a farmer, approached, but the scribe noticed that the farmers did not speak to each other and hesitated to "introduce" two life long citizens of the county, for fear there was an enmity between them, but after venturing to ask was amazed to find that neither had ever seen the other "that he remembered of."

That such a condition is quite common we have since learned, and it convinces us that there is something radically wrong with our social status, and that such gatherings as that assembled at Jeff Clement's lake and spring last Friday are not only pleasant but necessary to promote the intermingling socially of our people. Mr. Clement decided rather hurriedly the other day that in honor of the visit of Will Kelly, of Versailles, who was raised by his father-in-law, W. Wagar, that he would take his guest, and a few of his friends, whom he could see or get word to, to a barbecue at the spring and lake on his farm. Forest Oliver, a prince of good fellows joined him in this commendable enterprise just as he had done on many previous occasions when transactions in stock, though of a different nature were intrinsically.

It is said that J. N. Camden who gave a barbecue recently to his farmer friends and the editors, of Kentucky, at "Spring Hill" his county seat, near Versailles, entertained twenty-one thousand guests and that nineteen hundred automobiles were parked in the grove, near the assembly grounds.

Had Forest and Jeff invited all their friends they would have had just as many, for everybody who knows them is their friend.

Suffice it is to say that the lambs were barbecued to a queen's taste by Dave Brown and that chicken, bread, hot coffee, tomatoes, onions and 'etc,' were there in abundance, and every one there, was glad to be there. Among those who drove over from Marion were:

Virgil and Allie Moore, Jesse Olive, Will Sullinger, Ed Flannery, Jno. Wilson, Henry Ham-mack, Tom Cochran, Sam Gugenheim, Houston Orme, R. F. Haynes, Geo. Roberts, Henry Woods, Wm. Barnett, Will and Louis Clifton, Ernest Carnahan, Douglas Clement, James Estes, C. S. Nunn, J. W. Blue, and others.

From Tolu—J. B. Croft, Forest Harris, Zed Bennett, Trice Bennett, Eugene Guess, and Herman Lowery.

From Versailles, Ky.—Will Kelly.

From Fredonia and vicinity—John, James, & Smith Lowery, Henry Martin, Frank Clift, Thos. Ordway, John Ackerdige, John Hughes, Byrd Guess, Henry Rice, Sr., Dr. Bunton, T. H. Butler, and Kelly Landies.

From Clay—Ed Moore.

From Crider—Dr. Moore.

From Crayne—W. R. Cruce, M. F. Pogue, Frank Dorroh, W. B. Binkley, and Ollie Adams.

From View—S. H. Matthews, Jas. and Earl Farmer, and Thos. Hopson.

From Francis—Nolen Wheeler, Forest Oliver and son, Ray, Geo. L. Whitt, Will Millikin, Ralph Hodge, H. N. Wheeler, J. R. Brasher, Robt Moore and others whose names we do not now recall.

The after dinner speeches by Judge Blue, A. C. and V. Y. Moore, Trice and Zed Bennett, C. S. Nunn, and others were rich and racy and added much zest to an altogether pleasant day.

The Coming Of The Show.

Sept. 23 will be show day in Marion, the day which makes the world young and kin. Every household will be alive early on account of it and the country cousin, arrayed in his best, will come in on the highways and byways with refreshing glory and abundance.

The fine big special train of Sun Brothers is due here before dawn on Sept. 23 and the usual army of curious will no doubt be at the railroad yards to greet them. As tented show men are known as hustlers, it won't take them long to unload the enormous equipment, horses, elephants and animals and assemble them at the show grounds at Marion.

Performances will be given in the afternoon at 2 o'clock and at night at 8 o'clock. There are no conventional numbers in the big Imperial programme that will be offered. Because the hundred or more men, women and children performers are masters in their varied feats and accomplishments and bring refinement and diversion to their work. Besides the human superiority of this season's exhibition, there is a unique and wonderful trained animal display. The Sun Troupe of acting and musical elephants; educated monkeys and dogs; cleverly trained ponies; a coterie of blue ribboned cake walking horses; these are all classy features of the huge programme.

In the wild beast and zoologic department are many cages and dens containing a rare and valuable collection of wild animals. Everything of worth in this field will be seen and exhibited.

All of the tents are of modern build and at night time they are brilliantly illuminated. The show comes highly recommended for its absolute cleanliness and entire freedom from gaffs, gamblers and ticket scalpers. In fact the only way that you can spend your money around the show is through legitimate channels. From the looks of things Sept. 23 will be one of the biggest show days in the history of Marion.

Church Dedication.

On Sunday, Sept. 7th, the new Cumberland Presbyterian church at Weston will be dedicated with proper ceremonies. Rev. W. T. Oakley will assist the pastor, Rev. F. L. McDowell. There will be an all day service, with dinner on the ground. Everybody invited.

Having been nominated by the Democrats of the county, without opposition for the important position of County Superintendent of Schools, I take this opportunity to thank those who so generously supported me in the primary and also to assure all the voters of the county regardless of party that I respectfully solicit your support at the November election.

If elected I promise a faithful and efficient discharge of the duties of the office without fear or favor. I shall be a friend and advisor to all the teachers and strive to be faithful to the interests of parents and pupils.

In the conduct of the affairs of the office I will promise that economy consistent with a progressive administration of educational affairs shall be my standard.

Marion Graded And High School.

The Marion City Schools will open Monday, Sept. 8th, 1913, in the Auditorium at nine o'clock. Everyone is invited and urged to be present to lend encouragement and enthusiasm. We hope to have speeches from patrons, and the Orchestra is to have music. Let everyone who has a School Hymnal bring it.

It is earnestly hoped that all the children will be able to start on the first day. Their interest, depends on their starting with their class.

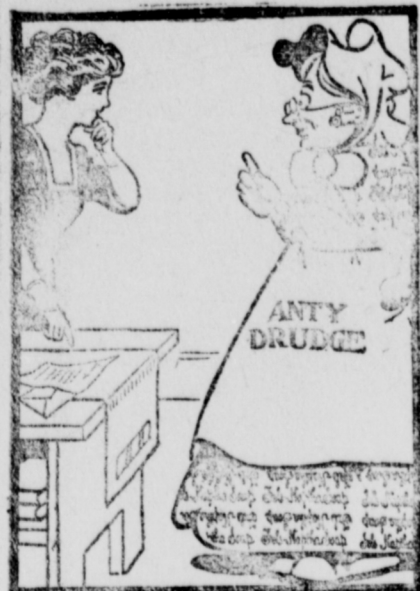

Prospects are bright for a year of successful work. There has been no change in our faculty of excellent Grade teachers. Their acquaintance with the work will enable us to begin without any difficulty. Mr. Richardson has been with us in the High School before and knows the work intimately. In Miss Annabel Acker we are confident we have an excellent teacher of English and German.

This spring there were forty odd graduates from the Common Schools of the county. From reports received we expect quite a number of these with us in the High School. They make excellent students and are quite a help to us. We always welcome them. They have been meeting with some difficulty in finding places to board. Will those who are willing to take boarders notify the Superintendent that he may be of assistance to them in securing boarding places?

Easy on the woman; easy on the clothes! That is the Fels-Naptha way of washing.

Fels-Naptha Soap does away with all the hard and disagreeable part of washing. Little rubbing, no steaming suds to bend over, no keeping up fire to boil the clothes, no nauseous odor from cooking soiled garments.

Then, clothes last longer, with no boiling to weaken their fiber and no hard rubbing to wear them thin.

PEEPING LANDLORD IS SHOT TO DEATH

Alabama Widow Shoots Through Knothole at Supposed Intruder.

Dallas, Ala., Sept. 2.—Seeing a man peeping through a knothole in the door of her home, Mrs. Martin, a widow, who rents from J. J. Register, a wealthy landowner, Saturday night late took a pistol and shot through the hole and sent a bullet into the brain of the man on the other side of the door.

The man happened to be Mr. Register, who, having heard that a young man was in the neighborhood, while drinking, had been disturbing Mrs. Martin, was making an investigation, and was looking through the knothole to see if the obnoxious man was around. Mrs. Martin with her children, hurried to the home of Register and told the wife of the latter that she had shot the young man who had been bothering her. Later it was discovered she had shot Register. Mrs. Martin was lodged in jail.

Strengthen Weak Kidneys.

Don't suffer longer with weak kidneys. You can get prompt relief by taking Electric Bitters, that wonderful remedy praised by women everywhere. Start with a bottle today, you will soon feel like a new woman with ambition to work, without fear of pain. Mr. John Dowling, of San Francisco, Cal., writes: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters prompts me to write. I suffered long when all the doctors failed. I could not sleep, my back ached, and I was in constant pain. Price, 50c, and $1.00. Sold by J. H. Taylor and James H. Orme."

"Home-Grown" Clothes.

Some time ago in Spartanburg J. W. Alexander inaugurated a movement for home grown clothes, the wearing in the south during the summer of clothing made of cotton. At the fair last fall he succeeded in pledging 350 Spartanburg men to buy suits made of cloth woven at Spartanburg from home-grown cotton, provided the suits could be made satisfactory. Mr. Alexander has now sent a bolt of Bedford cord cloth manufactured by a Spartanburg mill to a shrinking plant in the north.

As soon as this is shrunk it will be returned to Spartanburg, and a tailor will make a $7.50 suit for Mr. Alexander. The suit will be worn and submitted to a shrinking test. If it stands, the test all right, cloth will be ordered for the other 349 suits, and Spartanburg will be wearing not only home-made but home-grown suits.

The Charlotte Chronicle, regards Mr. Alexander's idea as a most excellent one. It says:

"Why should not the men of the South wear clothes manufactured from cotton in summer? Why should not farmers of the entire south, for instance, wear cool, comfortable cotton clothes during this season? Why should not the laborers of this section in the city and in the country wear cotton overalls and khaki suits instead of cheap woolen stuff? The prosperity of the south depends largely upon the cotton-growing and cotton-manufacturing industry, not only because of the number of people employed in that industry, but because of the interdependence of all industries in this day of complex business and social relationships. If all men of the south would wear cotton goods in summer there would be a considerable increase in the consumption of cotton goods at home and industry would be stimulated and helped just that much."—Augusta Chronicle.

The improvement in the general appearance has a profound psychic influence, not only directly through the stimulation of the sense of pride in appearance, but indirectly through the flattering comment which it arouses. This important measure is generally neglected by men, yet aside from the beneficial psychic influence, for aesthetic reasons alone the old man should endeavor to make himself appear as at rest as possible. This does not mean that he should resort to the artificial devices that mid-

All Hail The Camel!

News comes from the insiders that the camel is to be imported into this country and domesticated and increased so that he may vie with the useful cow. The camel used to live on this continent several aeons ago. He was driven across Bering strait by the ice. It is hoped that he may take up the threads of life where he left off. The camel is extremely useful. He can subsist without highballs or ice water. Camel's milk makes excellent cheese, and shawls made from Camel's hair are a splendid covering for old gentlemen. As a means of exercise the camel is not to be despised.

Perhaps, however, the best use of the camel will be as an example to our rich men. Most of them are likely to forget how difficult it is for a camel to go through the eye of a needle. But when camels begin to mingle with our scenery advertisements and are seen occasionally walking up and down Fifth avenue and Pennsylvania avenue, who knows but that these humble instruments of Providence may serve as objects lessons and thus be useful in other ways than to satisfy merely material cravings!

Boy Strikes Oil In Webster County

Scree, Ky., Sept. 3.—Oil has been found near the passenger station in this city in old well sunk 23 years ago for water, to a depth of 523 feet, but abandoned at that time and stopped up by putting in tow sacks and covering them with dirt.

The well was opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon by a young boy with the aid of a posthole digger, and found to be filled with a fine quality of crude oil. Almost the entire population of the place soon gathered around the well and the oil was pronounced by those who claim to know, to be equal to the finest oil produced in the famous Bridgeport, Illinois, oil fields. Our people are very much elated over the find.

Several companies have been in this region recently, taking oil and gas leases, and it is expected that a test well will be sunk at once.

The oil is so near the surface that it can be reached by hand with a bucket.

After his first escape, Hartman returned voluntarily, but he threatened to escape again if quarters were not provided for him separate from those occupied by a Chinese leper at the quarantine camp.

It was announced that a tent would be provided for Hartman and later a separate cabin; but the tent has not yet appeared. Hartman was quartered in one room of the cabin occupied by the Chinaman, who occupied a room at the other end of the house.

HENRY PHILLIPS

SERIOUSLY HURT.

Henry Phillips of the Hurricane neighborhood, who has been in Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and other western states during the summer, returned home Friday to visit his parents and attend the camp meeting.

The young man has been playing professional baseball for some time and Saturday afternoon went to Tolu for the ball game. The game moved smoothly until in the 9th inning a player of the visiting team hit a high ball into the outfield. Mr. Phillips and another player on his team made a dash after the ball, neither knowing that the other was running near him. The result was a severe collision. Mr. Phillips face was bruised, several bones were broken and the right side of his face, below the eye was completely sunken. He was taken to the hospital, at Paducah, by gasoline boat immediately, where an operation was performed. He was accompanied to the hospital by his sister, Miss Stella Phillips, who will remain by his bed side until all danger is passed.

His many friends are hoping for a early recovery.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 30 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. Self Rising Bed Throws

Inventor Out of Bed.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 3.—The invention of a rocking bed, designed to lull to early slumber all those troubled with insomnia, is announced by Benjamin Apfelwitz, baker and delicatessen merchant, who recently invented a musical ice cream freezer, a rocking bath tub, a set of spring action false teeth, an automatic chopping bowl and a mechanical cork leg.

The first demonstration of the sleepinducing bed was in the presence of a small company of friends. The bed as shown, was set on rockers, to which an easy motion was applied by a small electric motor.

Further, the bed was equipped with a clock dial, so attached that at the set hour the motor would raise the head of the bed and set the occupant out upon his feet.

Mr. Apfelwitz, put a model of an 1807 gentleman's robe de nuit on over his street clothes and tucked himself in the bed which set up a gentle rocking.

Miss Rose Apfelwitz, in the next room, was grinding out two quarts of ice cream and a choice program of classic music on the musical ice cream freezer. The onlookers at the bedside stepped out of the bedroom to assist her. A rattling whirr sounded from the bedroom, then a yell from the inventor and a crash.

"The self rising feature of the bed needs some changes before the invention can be put on the market," the inventor said. It had been geared to high, and instead of setting Mr. Apfelwitz out upon the floor it straightened up with a jerk and threw him out of the window.

BRAIN LEAKS.

BY F. S. LOYD.

A stranger said to Grant Lowery the other day, "And so your name is Lowery. Are you any relation to Dock Lowery?" Very distinct, he was my mother's first child and I was the twelfth.

Daddy Loyd said to one of his grandsons, "Say, sonny, don't you know you should never speak until you are spoken to?" "Then if that is true no boy would ever talk."

Dr. Spickard's wife said to him "I just heard of a man out west who swopped his wife off for a horse. You wouldn't swop me for a horse, would you, darling?" "Of course not. But I'd hate to have any one tempt me with a good automobile."

Albert Elder said, "Why is it that a man always has to wait for a woman," to his wife. She said, "Did not Adam have to wait until Eve was made up?"

Bob Robinson stepped into the bank the other day and said to Johnson Byrd. "You've made a mistake in that check, haven't you?" "You should have said so before you left the bank. It's too now." "Alright, I'm satisfied. It will help pay my rent."

Will Wyatt says asking permission of a girl before you kiss her is cowardice. It is putting the responsibility up to her.

George Loyd said to one of his scholars, "Make up a sentence using the word 'butter.'" The kid said, "Sister would a caught the train but she had on her hobble skirt."

Dee Threlkeld said on a hot summer afternoon in Fredonia, "The only thing henoos I see stirring was a woman in a sun-bonnet prowling around the poultry yard looking for an egg."

Birt Hillyard said to Seth, "Well, how many orders did you get yesterday?" "I got two orders in one house." What were they? "One was to get out, and the other was to stay out."

Mrs. Laura Watson said, "In my day girls were more modest and reserved than they are now." Some one said that's because you never taught that modesty and reserve were more alluring to the men.

Tom Bugg wanted to purchase a horse from John Lowery, and he said, "Will he scare at anything?" He said, "this horse is just afraid of two things, 'that he wont get enough to eat,' and that he wont hear you say 'whoa.'"

Effie Baker says a woman is a creature who wants a divorce if a man stays away from home all the time; and wants a divorce if he hangs around the house all the time in the way.

Dr. Spickard says when you see a pair of white stockings drying on one window sill and a pair of white shoes sunning on another window sill, that is a sure sign that he is going to call that evening.

Alex Garner says a bunch of heavy clouds passed over Fredonia yesterday bound for Piney Fork to break up the camp meeting.

Uncle Billy Loyd said, "My wife is very fond of a joke." "Yes, that's what we all said when she married you."

Grant Bugg got mad the other day because it was so hot, and run all the flies out of the post-office.

Simon Heath has accepted an agency for a patent watch which he is showing to the public. The watch has the words "day" and "night" stamped on its face and that section of the dial traversed by the hour hand during the night is dark, while that of day is light. By using this watch, he says, you will not have to look out of doors to tell when it is getting dark.

Mrs. Horning stepped into Mr. Jones' the other day, and Carter said, "Shall I take your hat?" "No, thank you, but you are a polite little man, all the same."

"No, thank that. I just wanted to get the hatpin to stick into Ward. Me and him's going to have a fight in the hall in a few minutes."

The beauties of nature, trees, flowers and birds have each a message that the teachers must unfold to the child.

The first step in correlating Language with real life, take the things nearest at hand, things he has probably never thought of, and show the beauties of these."

Cause of Failure in Language Work.

Miss Florence Harris.

These may be summed as 1. Outside influence. 2. Child's Limited vocabulary. 3. Too close adherence to the text books. 4. Lack of Oral Expression. 5. Interrupting a pupil while reciting. 6. Criticising the pupil instead of the subject. 7. Criticism by the teacher destructive instead of constructive.

Ends to be Obtained.

Miss Francis Gray.

The practical end and aim is to secure accurate and fluent use of pure English. To do this proper habits of speech must be formed, and bad habits broken up.

Subjects should be those with which the pupil is familiar and he should be encouraged to talk freely.

In Language work, from the first, pupils should be required to use correct forms. Capitals and periods should be used with the first sentences ever written. The tendency is to have too much done, when the idea should be to have a little done and that done correctly.

Sources of Material For Lessons.

Miss May Lou Wilborn.

"Material may be obtained from conversation lessons about his environments. Lessons on Morals and Manners and Hygiene should be given. Poems should be read, studied and memorized. Fables are very interesting and they contain great truths and morals. Plan a few nature stories each month thus bringing the pupils in sympathetic touch with mother nature. One picture each month should be studied; these should reveal the beauties of nature and the charms of real life."

The Use of The Picture in Language Work.

Miss Ethel Hard.

"The picture is an incentive to the child's expressing himself at his best orally. Pictures are good when they are good pictures. Highly colored pictures had from an artistic standpoint should never be given to children. Pictures of different places can be a great advantage in both Geography and History teaching.

Prof. Craig Then Addressed The Institute.

"Literature of the past is a boundless storehouse of information. Pictures fairy stories etc., are all given for inspiration and information. There is no culture of a nation that does not come from a reading people. Shakespeare is a classic because it has lived nearest the hearts of the people. The Mother Goose rhymes stand the same test as the most classic piece of Literature. He gave a most complete list of books speaking of the special value of each that could be given the Primary and intermediate Grades.

Discipline And Management.

THE LESSON.—How Assign?—How Study?—How Review?

Mr. E. E. Phillips.

"All work must be known to the related unknown. Allow the pupils to converse freely. Endeavor to find how the teacher may help the pupils."

Seat Work as an Aid to Discipline.

Mr. P. M. Ward.

He has found that the secret of this is to keep the child interested and busy, if not he will interest and keep himself busy.

An Orderly School.

Miss Allie Wiljoru.

"Order, neatness and prompt execution are the essentials to any successful business, therefore it is necessary that there be a systematic method of doing all school work. System in management, in teaching and in handling and caring for all material things. Pupils should be trained to study and work busily without unnecessary noise, and give prompt, thoughtful and respectful attention in recitation. There is order in the school room when each student is engaged in education work without interfering with his neighbor.

Enumerate Causes of Disorder.

Mr. Allen Young.

"The first cause of disorder in the school is idleness. This is caused through the lack of interest in school work or on account of physical debility.

Second, is the weak discipline of the teacher. Teachers should not make unreasonable rules for such only suggest mischief.

Third, is the lack of system in the management of the school. Pupils should pass in and out of the room in regular order. No whispering should be allowed except on questions relating to lessons and then only by the permission of the teacher."

Temporary Chairmen Appointed.

Superintendent Travis appointed temporary chairman of the different division meetings, who were to see to the organization of the teachers in their respective districts.

DISTRICT NO. I. Allen Young.

DISTRICT NO. II. Hollis Franklin.

DISTRICT NO. III. E. E. Phillips.

DISTRICT NO. IV. Lonnie C. Moore.

Adjourned Until Tuesday Morning.

TUESDAY MORNING.

Institute was called to order at 8:30 by President Hollis Franklin. Devotional Services Were Conducted by Instructor Craig.

Primary Reading

Miss Shelley Harris

MODEL LESSON—

Several first grade pupils were present and were in the class. She had objects illustrating the lesson taught, wrote the words on the board and had them find the object, and had them find the word on the board also to write the name of some "object" in the lesson. She teaches reading and writing together. Combines the phonetic, word and sentence methods. Miss Harris encourages the pupils to talk of the lesson. This was very interesting as well as instructive.

Mrs. Williamson addressed the Institute on the subject of Tuberculosis. She is sent by the State of Kentucky to explain to the teachers how they may assist the Anti-tuberculosis Association in stamping out this disease.

ARITHMETIC—

Arithmetic

What facts of Arithmetic should be taught in the first two grades and how to teach them. Mr. T. F. Newcom explained carefully the combination of work. He spoke from observation and experience of successful work.

Emphatic Part of Arithmetic In The Grades.

Miss Margaret Moore.

"In the first three or four grades the work combines Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication and Division. Teachers should work subjectively, using concrete examples. Fourth grade gives careful review of fundamental principles and some fractions and long division is taught. Fifth grade, compound numbers when practical. Simple problems in practical measurements and review drill. Sixth grade, Common and Decimal fractions and introduce percentage. Seventh grade, Review fundamental processes, Common and Decimal fractions.

Careful work given on Percentage, Simple Interest and Commercial Forms. Eighth grade. Review drill to secure accuracy. Study Arithmetic from a commercial standpoint. Practical forms of banking etc. Partial Payments according to the rule in the state. Insurance and Taxes. The lesson on taxes can be made a patriotic civil government. Teach Longitude and Time and Mensuration especially circles and solids.

The following are of no value aside from a cultural value. Troy and Apothecaries Weight, Compound Proportions, Annual Interest, Complex problems in Exchange and Profit and Loss except as it comes in Percentage.

Objective material is necessary, oral and written drill may be carried too far. Endeavor to secure speed and accuracy. Any subject is profitable from a cultural standpoint if carefully taught.

Explain the Course in Primary Arithmetic as Outlined in "The Course of Study."

Mr. J. C. Bardin

He makes the work interesting by drawing lines of different lengths. Has the children learn the numbers on the lesson pages. Count the seats in the room, etc. Find the number of posts in a certain distance, the height of the fence, and the gallons of milk each day.

Have problems which contain the combinations to 12. Teach equal and unequal parts. Use sticks, objects or anything practical and interesting.

How Should Arithmetic be Articulated With Rural Life Problems.

Prof. Dave Brightwell

"Teacher should have a knowledge of the experience of the child. Farmers children know the application of simple operations. Teach that percentage is only a fraction by another name. Arbitrary signs and symbols must be associated with ideas which the child already has about the farm. Problems about things of which the child has no conception, causes a dislike of Arithmetic."

Instructor Craig Summarized The Work On Arithmetic.

"Teachers must follow the outline as given in the Course of Study, and thus much will be omitted that has previously occupied time. Arithmetic must not all be taught with the same degree of emphasis. In the first four grades work on fundamental principles certain things cannot be omitted. Know that all Arithmetic is the ratio of one quantity to another. Applications of Percentage must be good and strong. Mensuration requires more study and more drill than ever before. Use the same amount of time but that time must be on practice work."

The Instructor made the following assignment in the course of Study. Page 9, Character Building. Page 24, Mind Training and Knowledge. Also Pages 28 and 29, General Directions.

Prof. Craig Asked Mr. Christian What Was The "Aim of Examinations."

The reply was:

"The purpose is for review to generalize on topics, more than a test. It gives the pupils an opportunity to do what few can do well, to express their thoughts. Examinations are planned to help pupils and are not just to find out what he knows. They cost so much time and energy it is a question whether the good accomplished pays for it."

E. E. Phillips says the examinations as now arranged by the County Superintendent are designed that the same work may be done in the same grade in each school of the county.

Miss Margaret Moore thinks Examinations have a real value as a test and aids the teacher in an understanding of the child's work.

Miss Lizzie Glenn thinks that if only one test is given that should be oral.

Mr. Franklin, Miss Hicklin and Mr. Todd and others gave additional thoughts on this subject.

Mr. Gehres, representative of the American Book Company, conclusively settled the question about what should be done if an argument arises over any grade a teacher had given.

Miss Hard trusts her pupils implicitly as the only way to get honest effort.

E. E. Phillips explained that pupils often think alike and their work might be alike although it was not copied.

Mr. Houseton explained the Honor System and gave his experience of its successful working. Pupils will be honorable if trusted and will cheat if they are expected to.

Institute adjourned for noon recess.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Institute Called to order by Pres. Hollis Franklin.
Singing: "Will There be any Stars in my Crown." Led by Prof. C. H. Richardson.

Language Advanced

Explain The Course of Language As Outlined In The Course of Study.

Miss Mary Towery's explanation was conclusive. She said language books should not be followed too closely. Dictation work, letter writing, much oral and written composition should be given. Students write one composition each week.

How Alternate the Third and Fourth Grade Work.

Mr. George W. Condit.

His explanation was good and as he was giving personal experience it was helpful.

How Teach the Fifth and Sixth year Work Together Without Turning Back.

J. L. F. Paris.

J. L. F. Paris continued the explanation and made clearer what the course of study means by alternation.

How Study A Poem.

By Prof. C. H. Richardson.

"Poetry should be read aloud. Poetry expresses sentiment, read it as a reflection of life. Study the life of the author and get an insight into his character and not try constantly to find a moral in each poem. Look into the poem for the music, and study them as music."

Give the Steps in Writing A Theme and Illustrate.

Miss Della Stenbridge.

Miss Della Stenbridge's treatment of the subject was good, clear, concise and showed careful thought and study.

Prof. Craigs Address was a Continuation of the Work on Literature begun on Monday.

"Nursery rhymes lose interest as the child gets older. Then comes the love for the weird and fantastical stories but the love for the jungle continues. Children have good standards of Literature. The Grammar grade child wants real stories, yet histories will not supply the need. Treasure Island and Robinson Crusoe fit a need in the life of a child. Good literature is read more than poor, even without direction, this fact illustrates the survival of the fittest. Teach Santa Clause and let them love fairy stories. We all feel that if there are not fairies there should be."

Prof. Craig then gave a most complete list of books that would be of great benefit to the Intermediate and High School Pupils.

The Following is a List of Books That Will Help Pupils in the Different Grades

NURSERY RHYMES

Tom Brown's School Days, Evangeline.
Tales of the Hudson.
"Lady of the Lake" and "Quenton Durwood" by Scott.
Treasure Island by Robert L. Stevenson.

Language Work.

The alternation in language work was freely discussed.
Supt. Travis said as there were 38 schools in the county with less than 50 pupils enrolled, that alternation would be of no especial trouble to them, but where more are enrolled much thought and study must necessarily be given to it.

Miss Mary Moore explained her method of alternating Third and Fourth grades.

Instructor Craig emphasized the fact that the course of study is not a selfrunning device, that it requires thoughtful effort on the teachers part.

Mr. Keller representing the Masmilian Co. said the two most important things to get away from were the text book and the pencil. Pupils inter school talking freely and they are immediately given a pencil and "freezes" all enthusiastic expressions.

The whole language is to get children to talk, and the secret has been solved when they have been led to express themselves freely.

Agriculture.

Farm mechanics--Use of water power and gas engine.

Fred McDowell.

The farmer who machinery is of the most improved kinds, who follows the most improved scientific modes in harvesting; who has found that arid regions may be irrigated at slight expense, progress undreamed of before by the farmer becomes his.

RURAL Conveniences and uses of farm machinery.

Earl Sullenger.

First,—of the rural conveniences are good schools, attractive inside and out and containing good libraries of interesting and wholesome books.

Second—good roads are receiving attention from nation and state, yet counties must also be active. Some counties have had different school districts given part of the road to keep in order during the school session; prizes being offered to the boys of the districts who kept the best roads. The Farmer's Chautauqua as introduced in Warren county is a great movement toward progress. Boys corn clubs are so arousing interest that by the use of labor saving machinery they are accomplishing much more with less labor than ever before.

Instructor Craig explained the use of the hydraulic ram showing how cheaply and easily one could be installed and made of marvelous benefit. A gas engine could be secured for from $65 to $80 and thus save the great amount of unnecessary labor that makes farm life so wearisome. With a few such devices farm life would be as convenient as city life.

Discipline.

How Deal with whispering.

Miss Jennie Clement.

Miss Jennie Clement writes their names on the board under the word "talks" and children do not like to see their name on the board. Treatment of the unprepared was assigned to Miss Pearl Waddell. She was not present.

PERSONAL manners of the pupils and the teacher.

Miss Alma Brantly.

"Personal manners that are pleasing and good morals go hand-in-hand. Since 'politeness is the virtue of civilization' a teacher's good manners should be above reproach.

Good manners indicate self control, makes society desirable and shows thoughtfulness and love for others.

Punishment Necessity and nature.

Prof. V. I. Christian.

Discipline means avoiding punishment and the personality of the teacher has much to do with this. The teacher who enters her room quiet, masterful and reserved, will not have to punish her pupils. This attitude comes only by experience. Teachers should be careful if pupils learn to like the teachers it removes the greatest need of punishment.

There is a clash of personality when pupil and teacher meet for the child is "measuring strength" and this probably comes from the instinct of self preservation.

That teacher is very unfortunate who has some physical defect or mannerism for unless this teacher is tactful it will become the cause of disorder.

Teachers should carefully study "self." Loud talking is unnecessary. Disorder comes from lack of sympathy. Do not pet or fondle children, they become tired of it. Keep self in the back ground tis a grave mistake to be big "I." Sincerity and earnestness with high ideals will soon have co-operations of the pupils. Teachers should have sufficient training to be skilful in their work. Do not be afraid of making mistakes, plunge in and endeavor constantly to improve. See to a careful organization of your work if you wish to be able to keep interest and enthusiasm during the whole year. If you can keep pupils interested in their work there will be no trouble in discipline. Some pupils dislike work because of its improper adaption. 'Tis seldom we find a teacher who is able to avoid all punishment, some pupils are so used to it that it is then necessary. All punishments must be to correct and never with the idea of getting even. 'Tis never well to punish one as an example to others. Never punish pupils publicly. Teachers lose their hold on pupils they have humiliated. Always make the punishment as light as possible. Reproof by a word or even a look may be sufficient to stop a disturbance.

Whispering may demand a removal of seats. Every school has privileges that may be taken away. Consulting parents is most effective. Let the parents know you are interested.

Always keep back extreme measures until the last. Suspension may correct, sometimes expelling is necessary. Often whipping is needed but it takes a wise teacher to know. Slapping and striking over the head are more brutal than whipping.

Mr. Jenkins representing the Western Ky State Normal, addressed the teachers.
